

Developer Experience Survey - Example

Intro text

The data collected from this survey is used to help prioritize the areas where we will invest in the coming months to further improve the developer experience.

All responses to this survey are confidential (only a few analysts have access to row-level data). Aggregated results ensuring full anonymity of individual respondents will be shared with engineering managers and leadership.

Anonymised comments may be shared verbatim when reporting results from this survey and may be displayed in reporting dashboards.
